

JACKSON JAIL

Attacked This Morning By Kentucky Feudists.

Troops Were Well Handled And Are In Position to Repulse Any Further Attacks.

More Soldiers Will be Called to Jackson at Once—A Constant Fusillade Was kept up During The Early Hours Thursday.

(Advocate Telegram.)
Jackson, Ky., May 28—A well planned and desperate attack on the Jackson jail was made during the early hours of this morning. Hundreds of shots were fired by the attacking party and the troops and it is believed that several of the former party were wounded. The troops were well handled and are in a position to repulse any further attack.

More troops will be called for at once, as the desperate character of the effort to be made to save Curtis Jett is now apparent for the first time.

Nothing was further from the thoughts of the officers in charge of the troops than an attack on the jail. It was thought that the arrival of the Hotchkiss gun, which came yesterday would overawe any of the feudists who might think of making an attack to rescue Curt Jett and Tom White. Col. Williams was warned, however, that an attack might be made and he took all necessary precautions. A detail of troops were placed in the jail while pickets guarded the four corners of the square.

The first part of the evening was quiet and was only marked by the presence of an unusual number of mountaineers in town. Judge Hargis and his brother, Senator Hargis, assured the officers in charge that so far as they knew, there was no reason to fear any trouble of any kind and they were reassured.

Shortly after midnight, however, the pickets at the square on which the jail and court house stands noticed that a number of mountaineers were approaching each of the soldiers who were on picket duty. They were ordered to halt, but the feudists advanced. The order to halt was repeated by the soldiers, but the feudists advanced in the face of the repeated orders. The soldiers fearing that trouble was to come, began to retreat toward the jail, repeating their orders to the advancing feudists to halt.

The latter made a rush at the soldiers, who fired directly at the advancing men, and then turned and rushed for the jail. Their comrades within that structure were on the alert and the doors were quickly opened and as quickly shut after the soldiers were taken in. When the jail was reached by all the soldiers, guards were posted at every window. A double detail was placed in the cells occupied by Curt Jett and Tom White, with instructions not to permit the escape of the prisoners at any cost, and that, if necessary to shoot and wound the prisoners so seriously that they could not escape if the jail was attacked, but not to wound them so severely that they could not be placed on trial later. During the night a constant fusillade was kept up by the feudists outside the jail and an apparent effort was made to frighten the soldiers into abandoning the structure. They did not do so, however, but replied, shot for shot. After a time, even the soldiers partially ceased firing and only replied when a particularly annoying volley was fired by the attacking party.

A cow grazing near the camp was mistaken for a man and fired upon. She was killed.

PRESIDENT

In State of Idaho—A Bunch of Indians Race With the President's Special.

(Advocate Telegram.)
Pocatello, Idaho, May 28—President Roosevelt re-entered Idaho this morning. He was awakened at three this morning by a large crowd at Dillon, Mont. They fired shot guns, blew horns and shouted "Hurrah for Teddy" till their throats were sore. The president, however, did not leave his stateroom.

As the President's train nearing Pocatello at 8 o'clock this morning a band of fifty Indians all in full war paint and feathers, raced beside the train for a mile or two. A number of cowboys were also in the bunch. One of these rough riders was astride his horse backwards but rode with as much apparent ease as his fellows. After passing the Indians and cowboys the President ordered the train back to them. He stood on the back platform of the car and waived his hand in response to their cheers.

When the President left Butte in safety last night his secret service guardians breathed a sigh of relief. "Butte was the last danger spot on the trip," one of them said this morning, "and the President went through it like he did the others without a word or a hand raised against him. We feared trouble in St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, San Francisco and Butte on account of the large number of foreigners in those cities. We had warnings to look out for anarchists at nearly all these places but the anarchists did not appear."

SIX HUNDRED MEN

Are Idle Because Henry Durrrough Beat a Mine Mule Unmercifully.

Linton, Ind., May 28—Because a mine mule was beaten by Henry Durrrough, his driver, and the driver was discharged, 600 men of the Black Creek Mines are on a strike, and have lost $19,000 in wages. Three large mines are closed and 30,000 tons of coal have not been taken out.

It is alleged that Durrrough tied "Dan," the mule, and beat him unmercifully with a club four feet long. The mule was put out of commission. The company refused to reinstate Durrrough, and the strike followed on May 11th.

President Mitchell is considering the matter.

JABS A MASHER WITH A HATPIN

New York, May 28—"The New York masher is worse than the Kansas tramp," remarked Miss Lotti Blaker, a handsome young woman from Oskaloosa, Kan., after relating her experience with one of the former, in which she routed him with a hat pin energetically and properly applied. Miss Blaker has only been in New York a few days.

"If New York women will tolerate mashing, Kansas girls will not," said Miss Blaker indignantly to your correspondent. "I got on the Fifth avenue coach at Twenty-third street and sat down next to an elderly looking man in the corner.

"I didn't pay any attention to him, but finally his actions became so annoying that I could scarcely stand it. I was embarrassed, of course, and kept edging up in the corner. Finally, he put his arm back of me.

"I became so enraged I didn't know what to do. At last I reached up and took a hat pin from my hat. I slid it around so that I could give him a good dig and ran that hat pin into him with all the force I possessed. Of course, all the time I was looking calmly in front of me, so that when he let out a terrible scream of pain, no one in the coach had any idea what had happened. They all looked at him inquiringly, but he didn't have a word to say. He just got up and left the coach at the next corner."

KANSAS NEEDS MANY MEN.

Topeka, Kas., May 28—State Employment Agent T. G. Gerow says Kansas will need at least 75,000 men and 4500 teams for the wheat harvest.

His estimates are made from reports received from every township in the state. There are no idle men in Kansas, so it will be necessary to import harvest hands from the neighboring states.

There is a great scarcity of horses and mules in the state. This is caused by the fact that during the Boer war thousands of Kansas animals were purchased by the British and taken to Africa.

COURAGE

Failed When She Looked Into the Water, so the Young Girl Chose the Arsenic Route.

Kokomo, Ind., May 28—Maude McClure, aged 16, a handsome girl committed suicide yesterday afternoon by taking poison. A few hours before she had quarreled with her mother over a trivial matter and left home, stating that she would never return. She went to the Southside stone quarry to drown herself. When she looked into the water her courage failed her.

On the way home she stopped in a drug store, bought a quantity of arsenic, which she swallowed as she walked down the street. On entering home she began to sob. She ran to her mother and said:

"Oh, mother, I have taken poison. What shall I do? What shall I do?" A physician was called, but she was beyond hope of recovery.

HER MOUTH

Stuffed with Paper After Her Hands and Feet Had Been Tied by the Negroes.

St. Clairsville, O., May 28—Mrs. Maud Pugh, a member of one of the most prominent families of this county, was assailed by two negroes while she was on her way home from the city. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Haight, who went on in advance of her, as the latter was heavily laden with packages, the former intending to return and assist her. When not far from home two burly negroes pounced out from the roadside and threw Mrs. Pugh to the ground. Afterward they strapped her hands and feet together and stuffed her mouth full of paper. She was discovered lying by the road in a half dead condition, but the negroes had taken their flight. The white population is aroused, as this is the third criminal assault in this county in a period of two weeks, and officers heavily armed are scouring the country in pursuit of the fellows, who will be lynched if caught and identified.

BARONESS DOESN'T DESIRE DIVORCE

New York, May 28—The Baroness von Boross was never happier than she is now. The report that she intends to seek a divorce is absolutely without foundation.

This is the statement made by a Mr. Lincoln, who was one of the baroness' closest friends when she was Miss Josephine Holman, the fiancée of Signor Marconi of wireless telegraph fame. Mr. Lincoln continued: "The divorce rumor is founded on the fact that the baron recently purchased a home in Budapest and announced that in the future he would spend most of his time there instead of Vienna.

"Some wiseacres evidently thought that a divorce was implied by the two houses, and so the rumor started. It is rather cruel, I think, to imply that she is sorry she did not wed Signor Marconi, and that if she is freed she will hope to gain his affection."

UNDER FIRE

Are Other Officials of The Postoffice Department

Sensational Disclosures Likely to Result Within The Next Few Days.

Magnitude of the Work of Investigation During the Past Few Months is Graphically Shown in Recapitulation of the Results.

(Advocate Telegram.)
Washington, May 28—To a former newspaper man is ascribed the greater share of the credit for the successful unearthing of scandals in the postoffice department which culminated yesterday in the arrest of August W. Machen, superintendent of the free delivery system on charges of bribery, as wired the Advocate yesterday afternoon.

This man is Robert J. Wynne, who about a year ago resigned his position as correspondent of the New York Press to become first assistant postmaster general. When Postmaster General Payne found it necessary to take a voyage to the West Indies for his health, he placed Mr. Wynne in full charge of the department. Already grave rumors had been circulated and in some instances specific charges had been filed, alleging irregularities. General Payne gave Mr. Wynne a free rein.

"If these things are true I want you to find it out," he said. Mr. Wynne received similar instructions from the President when certain of the rumors and charges reached the white house.

Without fear or favor, Mr. Wynne started his investigation. To Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow he assigned the detail work of the investigation. How well that work has been done, yesterday's developments revealed. On his return from the West Indies Mr. Wynne was astonished at the progress that had been made, and warmly commended Mr. Wynne and General Bristow.

Taking up the threads of the investigation, General Payne then assumed general direction. Many charges had been made against Mr. Machen but General Payne was loath to believe that one who had been so long connected with the department in his important capacity should prove to be corruptible. He now admits his sincere regret that he did not earlier take the advice of both Mr. Wynne and General Bristow to suspend Mr. Machen. Mr. Wynne was particularly insistent that Machen be removed from duty pending investigation, assuring the postmaster general that ample evidence would be forthcoming to warrant such action. From that time,

SAVED FIFTEEN LIVES

Tunnel Superintendent Kept Gang of Italian Laborers from Bolting and Reducing Air Pressure Under North River.

New York, May 28—Facing death by drowning when the roof of the tunnel under the North river gave way, Superintendent Brady saved the lives of himself and 14 workmen by awing them with a revolver and threatening to kill the first man who attempted to escape.

The northern tube of the Hudson river tunnel has been bored from the foot of Fifth street to Jersey City to a point within 250 feet of the Manhattan shore, near Morton street.

The tunnel shield hit a formation of rock and loosened it so the water came gushing into the "ditch." The Italians, penned in a narrow airtight compartment, saw death ahead of them and made a dash for the door. To have opened it would have allowed the compressed air, with a pressure of 35 pounds to the square inch, to escape, and the suction would have caused an influx of water that would have drowned all hands before they could have reached safety.

Brady drew his revolver and threatened to kill the first man that opened the door.

Then he stuffed his hat coat and waistcoat into the break and called on the men to assist him. Cowed by his weapon they obeyed and tamped the opening, while one of their number telephoned for more air pressure and a carload of sawdust bags. Not a man The Italians, penned in a narrow airtight compartment, saw death ahead of them and made a dash for the door. To have opened it would have allowed the

HANNA ON TOP AGAIN.
(Toledo Bee.)
And then Roosevelt had to spoil it all by going down on all fours to Hanna and begging for the Ohio endorsement.
Will Hanna grant the prayer?
You bet!
It lets him out of the hole nicely and makes a monkey out of Foraker.
The President of the United States having stepped down off his lofty perch and appealed to Boss Hanna for endorsement by the Ohio Republican convention, why then of course, the appeal will not fall on unheeding ears. Now that Teddy has asked Mark for it of course Mark couldn't refuse a little thing like that.
But it will be borne in mind that Foraker didn't get the endorsement. The people had no chance to give it. The delegates were Hanna's cadets and it was a cinch Hanna could endorse or not, just as he pleased. So the President asked the Ohio boss for the endorsement and it will be handed to him with the compliments of Marcus A. Hanna.
Does this mean that Roosevelt has surrendered to Hanna in Ohio, as he has to Platt in New York, Quay in Pennsylvania and bosses in other important states?
Is this the heroic rough rider who watched the colored troops fight nobly on San Juan hill?
And after kicking up all the row and forcing a whole lot of Hanna's friends to put themselves on record against an endorsement of President Roosevelt, must Foraker jab his sword back into its scabbard, haul down his flag and go away back and sit down?
It looks that way.

QUEER PROCEEDINGS FOR A PRESIDENT.
(Columbus Citizen.)
There is grim humor in the means employed by President Roosevelt to get the endorsement of the Ohio Republican convention for his candidacy next year. Mr. Roosevelt evidently understood the situation in Ohio. He did not cause his friends to go among the delegates with a resolution in his behalf; he did not wait for the convention to assemble; he did not even conduct himself in a manner to indicate that he knew the convention would be composed of delegates. He saw only one man in Ohio and when he had his endorsement he knew that was enough. The President showed a profound appreciation of conditions in this state when he appealed to the boss instead of to the Republican voters of Ohio.
It is a queer proceeding for a President of the United States, however, to telegraph around the country to big and little bosses in his own behalf for a second term a year in advance of the national convention expected to nominate him. We do not recall any other president who publicly exhibited such anxiety. The President in a measure has revealed his own apprehension and weakness and placed himself in a suppliant attitude not calculated to strengthen his cause even with the aid of Ohio's endorsement.

MR. BRYAN'S LUCKY GUESS.
(Pittsburg Post.)
Mr. Bryan is reaching solid and productive ground in his suggestion of Democratic candidates for the presidency who will be acceptable to the great influence he will undoubtedly represent and advise in the Democratic national convention. The country did not go wild over Burgess, the Democratic governor of Rhode Island; over Tom Johnson, the Democratic Mayor of Cleveland; over Senator Stowe, of Missouri, or Chief Justice Clark, of North Carolina, a man of great ability and political courage, but unknown to the people. None of these appeared to fill the bill of a strong and available candidate at this time to make the battle against Roosevelt next year.

But the last suggestion of the Lincoln sage and counselor, with the experience of two presidential contests back of him, shows an advance in judgment and ripeness of observation. We refer particularly to Mr. Bryan's mention of the name of Edwin M. Shepard, of New York, whom many Democrats regard as the most promising statesman mentioned for the Democratic nomination for President. He is an up-to-date, courageous and independent statesman or politician, and Union and is thoroughgoing Democratic principles and beliefs. He is not objectionable to any section of the party, and would probably unite it more thoroughly than anyone who has been suggested. New York will be the determining state, so far as Democratic chances are concerned, in next year's battle, and he is particularly strong in that state. True, he was defeated for mayor in his contest with Seth Low by a small majority, but this was due to exceptional causes, and may be made all right by his success if a candidate against Low this fall, which is not improbable. His election as mayor of New York next November would make Mr. Shepard the strongest man in the field for the Democratic presidential nomination; he would be accepted as one who would inspire the certainty of an earnestly contested battle in all the states, with strong hopes of success. It would renew Democratic faith, and unite the Democratic party and give great hope to the Democracy in a candidate of splendid abilities, of great personal worth and popularity, and who stands high in the respect and appreciation of the American people.

ENGLAND.
Less Self-Country Than Any Other Country on Earth.

England buys her butter and eggs from France and Denmark, her chickens from Scandinavia and Russia, her green vegetables from Holland and her medicines from America. In 1902 more than two million treatments of Dr. Burkhart's Vegetable Compound were sold in England, and 80 per cent of the cases treated for Rheumatism, Catarrh, Constipation, Nervous troubles and diseases of the blood were restored to complete health. Flat Life.
In such a dwelling as the average "flat" of the north and west the privacy of home is reduced to a minimum. The footstep of the tenants, the rolling of their perambulators, the cries of their children, the varied odors of their breakfasts, lunches and dinners, are omnipresent and not to be banished even by mental science. If they are musically inclined, the others must listen to their performances. Some cheerful writer said, "While a man can sing he can work," but the trouble often is that while he is singing other people are unable to work. Such forced participation in the lives of others is irritating and upsetting to the nerves, and though we may be willing to weep with those who weep and rejoice with those who rejoice we would prefer to have some choice in the matter.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Too Great a Risk.
In almost every neighborhood someone has died from the attack of cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured, or a physician could be summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. Worked a Problem While Asleep.
An Amsterdam banker once requested a professor of mathematics to work out a very intricate and puzzling problem for him. The professor, thinking the matter good exercise for the intellectual faculties of his pupils, mentioned it to them and requested them to work out the enigma. One of the students, who had pondered deeply over the intricate subject during the day, retired to bed. Some time afterward he arose, dressed, and, seating himself at his desk, worked out the problem accurately, covering sheets of paper with his calculations. He had no recollection in the morning of having done so.

COUNCILMEN

Claim That an Attempt Was Made to Bribe Them—The Case Now in the Courts.

Evansville, Ind., May 28—Four members of the city council have sworn under oath that an attempt was made to bribe them to vote against the repeal ordinance relating to the franchise of the Cumberland Telephone company, which was declared by the council to have terminated several months ago. Dr. John H. McCutchan, Rep.; Edward Schmitt, Dem.; Dr. W. F. Cleveland, Dem.; and John Iglehart are the councilmen who made the affidavits. Each charged that a certain Republican politician was the "middle man." This testimony was given a few days ago before counsel representing the city of Evansville and the Cumberland company.

The franchise of the Cumberland company expired last July, and a repeal ordinance was passed. The company appealed to the Federal Court and asked that the city be restrained from cutting down the poles and wires. The case is to be tried before Judge Anderson of this Federal district, and depositions are now being taken.

Councilman Cleveland testified under oath that while the repeal ordinance was pending certain politicians called on him and said in substance that if he voted against the ordinance there was $200 for him the next morning and that he would get $800 more as soon as the whole matter was settled.

McCutchan, who is president of the council says this party told him the Cumberland company had $3,500 with which to "fix" the council, and he (McCutchan) would receive $200 down if he voted against the repeal and $800 more when the Cumberland got a new franchise. Councilman Schmitt says the "middle man" told him there would be plenty of money to be distributed among the councilmen. Schmitt stated that he tried to draw the fellow out, but the latter said he would see him again. Councilman Iglehart said the agent told him that if he (Iglehart) voted against the repeal ordinance he would be paid $200 through council.

The man implicated in the stories of councilmen was asked Wednesday to make a statement. He said: "Let the matter drop now. I may talk later on." To a number of friends in a clubroom he is reported to have said: "All these charges against me are false, and I will be able to prove them so before long."

'BORED HOLE

Through Floor and With Opera Glass Watched Agent Manipulate Combination on the Safe.

Birmingham, Ala., May 28—J. E. Williams and Benjamin Bibb are under arrest charged with one of the most ingenious robberies ever perpetrated in this city. Their arrest grows out of the robbery of the safe in the ticket office in the Union Depot on May 16 of $7,000.

During the night of that date robbers entered the office while the ticket seller was taking a nap, unlocked the safe, extracted the money and escaped through a window.
Detectives at work on the case discovered that the robbers had used a vacant room in the Union Depot building directly over the ticket office, and that they bored a hole through the ceiling. By the use of a field glass they watched the ticket agent, Jack W. Johnson, when he worked the safe combination and drew a correct diagram of it. Then they slipped into the office and worked the safe combination.

A party who occupied a bedroom at the Frisco Hotel next to the accused overheard them discussing the robbery last night. When the suspects learned this it is said they sought to make way with the witness, first by giving him carbolic acid to drink, and when he refused to drink it then by firing a shot at him, which barely missed Bibb is a son of J. M. Bibb, an official of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, while Williams is a conductor.

One of the accused has admitted knowledge of the robbery.

APPLICATION

FOR LICENSE TO MARRY MISS FREINER.

Name of Young Man Given as Morrison—Sunday's Attempted Suicide is Recalled.

Young John R. Morrison made application for a marriage license in the Probate Court Thursday to marry Miss Iva May Freiner. Upon the Court propounding the usual interrogatories required by law it was discovered that both parties were under the legal age, Morrison being but twenty years old and Miss Freiner only seventeen years of age, and as neither had the consent of their parents as required by law, Probate Judge Irvine refused to issue the license.

The incident recalls the sensational attempt by one of the parties to whom a license was sought to commit suicide on Sunday afternoon, May 24. It was remembered that on Sunday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock, Miss Freiner attempted to end her life by jumping into the Licking river in East Newark, but was rescued by Mr. Ira Sinsabaugh, after Charlie Lisle, a sixteen year old boy had made an unsuccessful attempt to rescue the young woman.

What the outcome of the whole matter will be is unknown and is awaited with considerable interest by the friends of all concerned.

A Clever Method of Stealing.
An ingenious and successful trick was played at a London flat in broad daylight. A gentleman rang the bell at 3 o'clock and inquired whether Mr. Grey was at home. "No, sir," said the janitor. "He rarely if ever comes back from the temple before 5 o'clock."

"That is strange," returned the other, "since I know he has an appointment here with a Mr. Johnson at 4 o'clock." Then he went his way.

At 4 o'clock to the minute Mr. Johnson called and, giving his name, was of course allowed to wait in Mr. Grey's apartments, which he denuded of everything of "portable value" in ten minutes and then walked out, observing as he passed the porter that he could wait no longer.

Parrots Are Vegetarians.
Parrots are vegetarians. They live chiefly upon a light but nutritious diet of fruit and seeds or upon the abundant nectar of rich tropical flowers. And it is mainly for the sake of getting at their chosen food that they have developed the large and powerful bills which characterize the family. You may have perhaps noted the most tropical fruit eaters, like the hornbills and the toucans, are remarkable for the size and strength of their beaks.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Waiter's Impudence.
Mr. Wayback (at hotel)—What's that—lemonade?
Waiter—That's a finger bowl, sah.
"What's it for?"
"To wash y'r fingers after eatin', you know, sah."
"Consarn y'r impudence! I don't eat with my fingers if I do come from the country. I eat with my knife, same as other folks."

Shark Soup.
In Ceylon there is a considerable trade in the oil of the white shark. The fins of the animal are very rich in gelatin and are used largely by the Chinese for making soup, of which they declare that this country is so prized by epicures in this country is but a distant and feeble imitation.

NEW ARMY STANDARDS.

Description of Flags Adopted by the War Department.

The war department has adopted a new set of standards and regimental, battalion and other colors for the army of the United States, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. The main feature of the new flags, as well as of the buttons and ornaments, is in the representation of the coat of arms of the United States. They are made of the best quality of silk in solid colors, and the United States seal, the insignia, scroll, inscriptions and other emblems are embroidered in colors. The different standards are described as follows:

That of the secretary of war is scarlet with white fringe and contains the United States seal embroidered in colors and four white stars. The artillery standard is red, with red fringe, cord and tassel. Below the seal is the insignia of the army, crossed cannons above yellow scroll, containing the regimental designation in letters of red. The infantry standard is blue, with yellow fringe and blue and white cord and tassel. Below the seal is a red scroll bearing the regimental designation in letters of white. The standard of the engineers is scarlet, with white fringe and scarlet and white cord and tassel. Below the seal is the insignia of the corps, a battlemented castle embroidered in white and a white scroll with the battalion designation in letters of red. The signal corps standard is orange, with yellow fringe and cord and tassel of orange and yellow. Below the embroidered seal is the insignia of the corps—crossed flags and torch embroidered in yellow and white, under which is a blue scroll with the designation in letters of white.

ALMOST REAL WAR.

Summer Maneuvers to Closely Resemble Actual Conditions.

Portland, Me., is being put on a war footing in preparation for the joint army and navy maneuvers this summer which will center around Portland harbor, says a Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Press. The joint maneuvers this year will be much more elaborate and comprehensive than the preceding ones and will represent as closely as possible the conditions of actual warfare. There will be no picnic connected with the realistic drill. It will be business all the way through, and the most beneficial results to the army and navy and the volunteers are anticipated.

Portland was selected as the scene of the struggle on account of the strategic value of its harbor in a war with any European power. The opposing nation, according to the war experts, probably would try to seize Portland and establish a base and throw an army across New England, following the plan of General Burgoyne in the Revolutionary war. The harbor is defended by Forts McKinley, Williams and Levitt and Fort Preble, a mortar battery. There are four entrances to the harbor, the main channel being between Forts Levitt and Williams. The number of entrances will give the coast artillery a large area to defend.

Rear Admiral Coghlan, now in command of the Caribbean squadron, probably will command the attacking fleet, and Rear Admiral Barker will be assisted by Rear Admiral Sands, commanding the training squadron.

STORK'S LONG FLIGHT.

A German Specimen Flies to India and Back.

A German nobleman of experimental turn of mind, curious as to the migratory habits of the storks which return each spring to his park, caught one last autumn and affixed to its neck a silver plate, on which were engraved the words, "This stork comes from Germany," says a special cable dispatch from Munich to the New York American.

The bird recently returned to his summer haunts still wearing the silver neck piece, on which had been engraved beneath the original inscription the words, "India returns him with a gift to his German owner."

Attached to the collar was a small parcel wrapped in waterproof material containing a ring of unmistakable Indian workmanship. When the bird flies south this autumn he will be the bearer of a message of inquiry as to the identity of the donor of the ring.

ARREST

OF DAVID M'LAUGHLIN BY THE NEWARK POLICE

Warrant Was Sworn Out by the Father of His Alleged Victim Nine Months Ago.

Patrolmen Howard and Glassmeyer made an important arrest Wednesday night of a man who has been badly wanted in Newark since last August, when a warrant was filed before Mayor Forry charging him with committing a crime against nature on Lawrence Marfield, a young boy living at 260 Beech avenue, with his parents' assault on the Marfield boy on August 10, last. The father of the boy caught McLaughlin in the act and after kicking him in the face grappled with him, but the fellow escaped, and although he has been in Newark since that time he has succeeded in eluding the vigilance of the police until found in South Newark by Officers Glassmeyer and Howard Wednesday night.

MOTHER

OF ROY DICKINSON TALKS TO THE ADVOCATE

Makes a Statement Concerning Miss Freiner's Attempted Suicide—Roy is Not to Blame in Least.

Mrs. J. H. Dickinson, mother of Roy Dickinson, who was mentioned in connection with the attempted suicide of Julia Freiner in Monday's Advocate, made the following statement to an Advocate representative Wednesday evening:

"The newspaper accounts of the case were incorrect in some particulars and a great wrong was done to Roy. Miss Freiner and Roy have been going together for some time and Miss Freiner's parents offered every encouragement to the boy. He had been a frequent caller at the Freiner home. Roy has never worked much because he has never had to. I don't think Mr. Freiner was exactly himself or he would not have approached Roy and Miss Freiner as he did. We, as well as the Freiners had objections to their marriage. This was because of their age.

"Miss Freiner telephoned to Roy to come over Sunday afternoon, or he would not have gone. As soon as Mr. Freiner began to abuse Roy, the latter turned and walked away. The news of Julia's suicide was as much a surprise to him as to anyone."

No blame whatever is to be attached to Roy, who has always had a good reputation. The whole affair is a deplorable one, in view of the circumstances, and is greatly regretted by all who participated in the averted tragedy.

WEDDING

Of Walter V. Harter and Miss Mary Henthorne Thursday—To Live in Newark.

At the elegant country home of the bride, one-half mile west of Alexandria Mr. Walter V. Harter and Miss Mary E. Henthorne were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Redfern of Alexandria, Thursday. Mr. Zane Harter and Mrs. Jessie Bell, both of this city, gracefully performed the parts of groomsmen and matron of honor. The ceremony was performed at high noon in the presence of over forty invited guests, after which an ideal wedding dinner was served, and greatly enjoyed by all present.

The bride was gowned in white Persian lawn.

Mr. Harter who has just become a benedict, has made Newark his home for about three years, where he has been employed at Mr. Philip Kober's barber shop. Miss Henthorne has been the trusted and efficient book keeper for Mr. Fred Evans.

As the ring was gallantly placed on the bride's finger by the groom there was a universal sentiment that love and happiness would rule their home through the vicissitudes of life.

Mr. and Mrs. Harter will be at home to their friends after June 10, at 243 Elmwood avenue.

EVERY WALK IN LIFE

Newark Citizens Appreciate "The Little Conqueror."

Every class of citizens has sick kidneys. The busy business man rushing through life on the run fails to realize the constant strain he daily puts on the kidneys. The mechanic forced to assume unnatural positions, stooping and straining at his work, does not know that his backache is simply kidney ache. The clerk on his feet continually, leaning over his counter or desk; railroaders, conductors, engineers, street-car men, subject to constant jarring, all have backache from the kidneys. Women at their household duties, boys and girls at play overtax the kidneys and give them more work than they can do. "It is a fortunate thing the kidneys warn you when in trouble, that they cry out for help. Don't neglect the warning. Don't neglect the back. A lame, weak or aching back, if neglected means future trouble, kidney trouble, urinary trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ill, cure a bad back, and make sick kidneys well. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed by people we know. Read what a Newark citizen says:—

Albert Wood of 113 Mill street, yard watchman of the B. & O. R. R. says: "I had pain in my back just over the kidneys. It was rather a new experience for me, but I did not have it long before I went to Crayton's drug store and got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. They took all the pain out of my back. I conscientiously advise others to take them."

"What do you think of the new boarder?" asked Mrs. Starvem. "Oh, I don't know. I piled Starbord. I think he's very polite." "Either that or he's very sarcastic. Did you hear him ask me to pass the 'cream'?"—Philadelphia Press.

THE "HELTER SKELTER."

Novel Form of Amusement at Coney Island, New York.

Varied and strange was the throng that patronized Coney Island's novelty, the "Helter Skelter," the other day, says the New York American. It ranged all the way from a one-legged boy on crutches to Eskimo from Labrador, and the shoot was choked with sliders half the time.

The device consists of a trough made of rattan polished with wax. Starting among gray crags at the top, it winds in a spiral around what looks like Blue-beard castle, with its graced windows, until it reaches the ground. The method of descent is to sit down and let go. Some reach the ground as they start. Some lying at full length and others backs against the wall and others half at the top and reckless abandon at the finish. On reaching the bottom the "skelters" are helped to their feet.

The minutest examination fails to reveal any damage to the clothing except from the prods from the feet of those following. Even this can be avoided by gracefully reversing at one of the turns.

The game seems to lend itself more readily to men's garments than to women's, as the artificial breeze is likely to play pranks with skirts. It is noticed that women seem to prefer "skelting" at night, when the only light is from a revolving windmill on the castle. But they say a search light will be erected near by in a few days.

A Sure Thing.

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. VanMeter of Shepardsville, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely."

It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by Frank D. Hall, druggist. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

COATLESS COMFORT GONE.

Chicago Board of Trade Forbids Shirt Waist Attire on Its Floor.

Coatless comfort is a thing of the past on the Chicago board of trade, and the glory of the shirt waist man will no longer grace the whirl of the wheat pit during the extra heated sessions of the summer months, says the Philadelphia Press.

The other day at the opening of the board coats came off, as is usual on a day when the weather is warm. Then the hot wave came in the shape of the floor committee of the board, headed by H. M. S. Montgomery.

The order went out that coats must be donned in the approved style. The room committee and the floor officers hustled all coatless brokers back to the coat room and to perspiring propriety. Then the brokers returned to business sadder but hotter men.

If you desire a good complexion use Moki Tea, a pure herb drink. It acts on the liver and makes the skin smooth and clear. Cures sick headaches. 25c and 50c. Money refunded if it does not satisfy you. Write to W. H. Hooker & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., for free sample. For sale by Collins & Son.

Circus Horses Work Hard.

Traveling with a round top Calico found to be no sinecure. The Grand Occidental, being a wagon show, moved wholly by road. The shortest jump was fifteen miles, but often they did thirty between midnight and morning, and thirty miles over country highways make no short jaunt when you have a five ton chariot behind you. The jump, however, was only the beginning of the day's work. No sooner had you finished breakfast than you were hooked in for the street parade, meaning from two to four miles more. —Sewell Ford in "Horses Nine."

Western Cities Lively.

The eastern visitor finds the cities of the northwestern coast bristling with life, color, significance, picturesque interest and, though the forces which have combined in their making are somewhat similar, each has a distinct character and individuality. "Lively" is a word of the west, may well be applied to them—a sort of brisk activity, youthfulness, ozone. They have the rather unusual capacity of doing big things, and talking about them lustily at the same time. It is the cry of the street corners: "I watch us grow. See us getting to the front!"—Ray Stannard Baker in Century.

BUCKEYE LAKE

VISITED BY NEWSPAPER MEN OF
CENTRAL OHIO

By Invitation of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction Company.

Buckeye Lake Park was the scene of a distinguished presence Wednesday afternoon and evening, when the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company, through its very capable general manager, Mr. J. R.
Harrigan, and its genial park manager, Colonel William C. Wells, played the role of host to the newspaper men of Central Ohio.

That Mr. Harrigan knows how to operate an interurban railway system perfectly is conceded by the public and now the newspaper men are ready to testify in print that he is equally able to take care of a party of friends.
Colonel Wells long ago achieved a reputation of conducting an ideal resort at Buckeye Lake and now the editors of Central Ohio are ready to sign any sort of an endorsement he wants.

The fact of the matter is, Messrs.
Harrigan and Wells fixed things up to the queen's taste. Every one of the sixty or more guests came away with a desire to get back to Buckeye Lake Park as soon as possible and to advise all his friends seeking a pleasure resort to board the Buckeye Lake cars and visit this delightful spot.

Representatives of the Columbus, Mt. Vernon, and Lancaster papers assembled in the Capital city Wednesday afternoon and by invitation of the traction company's officials boarded one of the fine parlor cars which made the trip to Buckeye Lake in little more than an hour. Colonel Philbrick said the motor attained a speed of a mile a minute on several straight stretches of track. The members of the craft from Newark, Granville, Johnstown and Pataskala, met in this city and were carried to the Park on the four o'clock car.

Everybody was busy from the time of arrival till the special pulled out for home at 11 o'clock. An inspection of the grounds and buildings was followed by an excursion over the water in one of the fine new launches recently installed. While it was a trifle windy to fish, one of the men succeeded in landing an eight pounder. A buffet lunch with good cigars was the next feature on the bill and at eight o'clock tables were set in the big pavilion for dinner.

It was in this feature of the proceedings that Colonel Wells showed what he can do. It was all there and plenty of it. The frogs and fish were fine and every other item on the elaborate menu was just as good.

As the men sat down to the dinner
Mr. Harrigan in a happy way extended a cordial welcome to the guests and Editor Webster P. Huntington of the Columbus Citizen, on behalf of the

J. R. HARRIGAN.

visitors responded with a few appropriate remarks punctuating his address with a few scintillations from his fertile brain.

Dinner over, Mr. Harrigan, who had been designated as symposiarch for the occasion, called upon a number of those present to speak and his elaborate yet timely introduction of the editors afforded one of the leading features of the event.

Toastmaster Huntington called upon Messrs. Gibson of the Columbus

zler, Lancaster Eagle; Spencer, Newark

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Last Monday about noon some of the relatives and friends of Mrs. Ora Green who lives four miles south of this city, assembled at her home with well filled baskets to remind her that another milestone in her life had been reached. In the morning her husband had some business in the city and asked her to accompany him. On their return
Mrs. Green was very much surprised to learn that so many people had taken possession of her home.
Mrs. Green soon regained her composure and made all welcome. The ladies prepared a fine spread under the beautiful shade trees in the front lawn,
and after an offer of prayer by Mr.
Pound, a brother of Mrs. Green, every one present partook with a relish.

Mrs. Green was the recipient of many beautiful remembrances, especially a very fine couch, the gift of her husband. The success of the surprise was due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Dora Musselman. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ora Green, Grandmother Green, who is past 92 years of age, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Swisher, of Hebron, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pound of

A Common Color.

The elder Dumas once was wearing the ribbon of a certain order, having recently been made a commandant, and an envious friend remarked upon it. "My dear fellow," he said, "that cordon is a wretched color! One would think it was your woolen vest that was showing!"

"Oh, no, my dear d'E—," replied Dumas with a smile. "You're mistakthe shade of the sour grapes in the fable."

COL. BREWER

Who Was to Have Been Tried for Manslaughter at Tiffin Next Month
Died on Wednesday.

Tiffin, O., May 28—Colonel Albert Brewer, who was to have been tried for manslaughter June 15, for the killing of Luther A. Hershey, a dairyman of this city, in saloon fight, died of heart failure yesterday, just one year to a day after the death of his alleged victim. Colonel Brewer was in poor health for several months past, and it is said that worrying over his approaching trial caused his illness.

Since Saturday he has been confined to his bed with rheumatism and a weak heart. Colonel Brewer is a native of Trenton, N. J., and a brother of the late Congressman John H. Brewer of that state. He founded the Brewer pottery in Tiffin about 12 years ago, and served under Governor Bushnell as an aide on his staff and later on the state fish and game commission. A wife and daughter survive.

Nothing resembles pride so much as discouragement.—Amiel.

EXHAUSTED

Renner Fell in Front of the Train that He Had Saved from a Wreck in Indiana.

Evansville, Ind., May 28—Adam Renner is the hero of Huntingburg, Ind. Renner is night yard conductor in the Southern yards of that city. While a crew was making up a coal train a flour car heavily laden started down grade at a rapid rate. The grade is about two miles long.

Renner, knowing that it was but a short time until the fast passenger train would come in from the east, started in the direction of the train. He saved the approaching train. He ran about two miles when he came upon the car that had arrived at the end of the grade and had stopped. Renner saw the passenger train coming in the distance and summoning new courage stated in the direction of the train. He waved his lantern two or three times and the engineer brought the train to a stand. Renner, completely exhausted, fell across the track. The train crew brought him to Huntingburg, where restoratives were applied, and he was soon brought to consciousness.

Passengers who realized that they had escaped a wreck gave liberally to Renner, and the employees in the yards at Huntingburg will make up a purse for him. The company will also reward him.

VICTIM OF THE HEAT.
